Are you trying to find the answer to the question where to submit my article? If you are then you need to know that there are many different places that you can use to submit articles.

Knowing where the best places are to submit any articles you write will help you get started using article marketing in an effective manner. Here are some of the best places online that you definitely want to submit articles to.

1. Article directories – This is definitely the best place to submit articles. You want to find from 4 to 7 article directories to submit to on a regular basis.

Just be sure that you take time to find the directories that will help provide you with the maximum exposure. Research and time will be needed to ensure you choose only the best directories so you don't end up wasting your time.

2. Forums – This is a good place to submit articles to that many people don't think about. If you take time to find 3 to 5 forums that are related to your business and submit articles to them on a regular basis you will definitely see an increase in traffic.

Just be sure that you take an active part in the forum also because this will also help to increase your article exposure. Once people start to recognize your name and they see an article wrote by you they will be more likely to read it and share it with others.

3. Ezines – Again this is another place that a lot of people don't think of. Find ezines that are related to your business and start submitting articles. Over time you will start seeing an increase in traffic to your business.

4. Blogs – Write articles and submit them to your own blog and also submit some to other blogs. There are many blog owners online that will be more than happy to put your article on their site if it is of high quality.

5. Social marketing sites – You want to use social marketing for your business and add small articles that will benefit the people on that site. This is a good place to submit your articles but you have to be smart about it and do it according to the rules of the social networking sites.

Now that you know the answer to the question where to submit my article; all that is left is for you to get started. The sooner you start submitting articles to all these different places the sooner you will start seeing an increase in traffic to your business.
