Want Success? Then Get Focused

There are a number of steps to take if we want to become successful and make a positive change in our lives. Some of these steps concern believing in your ability, actually creating a whole new belief system, attracting opportunities and taking action.

But right now I want to talk about how to get started. The first step is getting focused.

What is it that you want?

Many people struggle to answer that question. Or they reply the way majority replies: I want to be happy, plenty of money, a loving family, good friends etc. And I really understand people say this cause I used to give the same answer.

Now I have two comments to make about this. The first is that, again, this reply makes sense. But it is not specific. You have to be specific in what you require. You got to set specific goals.

The second is that you can't change everything overnight. So what is most important this instant?

Let me explain this a bit better. You have received the question of what it is that you want and replied like many people would. My question to you then is what is most important? What is the biggest priority? Let us say you replied the most important is you want to be happy. Great, let us focus on that. But just being happy is not specific. What would make you happy? You think about it and realize that since you have not been in a relationship for a while, having a partner would make you happy. Very good! You decided what is most important to you now and were able to be specific about it. Now it is clear what you need to focus on.

And now? Do I just wait for it to happen? No, things do not just happen. You need to have a plan to achieve this.

Write down your goals

A big step towards achieving your goals is writing them down. 80% of the people who write down their goals achieve them. And it is only about 5% of all people who actually write down their goals. So you have a much greater chance to succeed if you write down what you want to reach.

Actually, do not lay down the pen just yet. Because to really get focused you need to decide on a plan.

Let us say your goal is to have some more money. You wrote it down but now you need to figure out how to actually get that money. Start thinking about what you can do to get more money and write down all your ideas.

Once you decide what it is you are going to do stick to it. Develop a laser-targeted focus on that which you want and think of it in the most positive way. Believe that what you need is already on its way. You just need to receive it.

A word of caution: Even though you have to be specific about your goal, be open to the way it will come to you and even when. Avoid things like "I want to be rich in 2 weeks and the money should come from the lottery". It could very well happen, do not get me wrong. But what could happen is, if the money does not come within that time you will be disappointed. This limits your belief and will in the end move you away from your goal.

I encourage folks to dream big, but you have to be realistic. Do not expect MGM to call you tomorrow to direct their next movie because you have great videos on Youtube. You probably will not get a Grammy because you sing like Kelly Clarkson in the shower. If directing in Hollywood or winning a Grammy is one of your goals, I encourage you to go for it.

But either way, decide on a plan, work the plan and plan to work and you will get that which you want.

There is much more to say about being successful but this sets you on your way.

Be strong in your belief, be nothing but positive and focus on what it is that you want.

Thank you for your time and expect success!
